INQUIRY INTO TAX CHARGES COMING LATER

Washington, Dec. 18—(AP)—The start of a grand jury inquiry into the alleged attempt to shake down for $500,000 in exchange for relief from tax troubles appearing likely today to be delayed until next month.

The White House, meanwhile, maintained secrecy on details of the "drastic action" promised by President Truman to sweep wrongdoers out of the federal government, reportedly with U. S. Judge Thomas F. Murphy of New York holding the broom.

And the house ways and means subcommittee whose hearings figured largely in Mr. Truman's decision arranged to question on Thursday Henry Grunewald, about whom some mystery developed in previous sessions.

William F. Maloney of New York, Grunewald's attorney, said Grunewald may be released sometime today from Georgetown University hospital here. He is under subpoena and Adrian Dewind, counsel to the subcommittee, said he is due to appear Thursday.

Dewind declined to elaborate, but it was regarded that at least the initial questioning of Grunewald would be behind closed doors. The group last week wound up its presently scheduled open sessions.

Grunewald was hospitalized when the subcommittee sought to question him earlier. One thing members have said they want to ask him about is a $1,300 loan which Charles Oliphant, recently resigned chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, has listed as a debt to Grunewald.

Resignation Of Library Official Accepted by Board

At the regular December meeting of the Board of Control of Warren Public Library, Monday evening, Mrs. Jeanne Lopez, librarian, read a letter of resignation addressed to the board of Mrs. Teresa Marie Fino, children's librarian, which was accepted by the board with regret.

Mrs. Fino has been an employee of the public library for six years, starting as a page when a junior high school. A head of the children's department, she has handled many original games, exhibits and activities. She has endeared herself to the children through her deep interest in them.

Ernest C. Miller, in behalf of the sons of the late G. H. Dimick of the famous "646" oil well in Cherry Grove, presented to the library's petroleum and local history collection the original agreement by which Mr. Dimick swore his lease workers to secrecy in order to gain time for development of the oil well property.

Two Pittsfield Residents Have Close Call From Carbon Monoxide Gas Fumes

Members of the Youngsville Volunteer Fire Department and Dr. H. Knapp of Youngsville, had been successful early this afternoon in reviving Mr. and Mrs. George Fales of Pittsfield, to a semi-conscious condition after they had been overcome by carbon monoxide fumes during the night.

Their plight was discovered late this morning by their grandson, Jack Fales, when after trying for three hours to crawl from his bed, he finally managed to reach their bedroom. Himself a victim of the fumes, young Fales revived some, that with the contact of fresh air and summoned help. Fire Chief Leslie See, Assistant Chief Lee Miller and Don Abraham, accompanied by Dr. Knapp, rushed to the home and worked on the old couple with the resuscitator for some time. While they had partially regained consciousness this afternoon, they were very ill and a trace was in attendance.

It was discovered that the fumes emanated from a gas heater in the basement when the stove pipe outlet became clogged.

Warring Senate Leaders In Huddle In Effort to Solve Reapportionment Controversy

Harrisburg, Dec. 18—(AP)—Warring senate Republicans and Democrats went into a huddle today to attempt to remove congressional reapportionment as the major obstacle to final adjournment Saturday.

The eight-man bi-partisan committee must come up with a solution within 24 hours to assure lawmakers a pre-Christmas end to the longest legislative session in Pennsylvania history.

And Democrats held threats of both a filibuster and the defeat of appropriation bill over the heads of the GOP leadership to insure against purely partisan handling of reapportionment.

This group was set up early today as the senate once again bogged down into a midnight session brought on by wrangling—first, on Philadelphia city-county consolidation, and then on reapportionment.

Lawmakers in the upper branch went into session at 7 a. m. yesterday and did not finish until 1 a. m. today although frequent recesses for closed-door conferences broke into the long grind on the floor.

Pennsylvania must reduce its congressional delegation from 33 to 30 because of population changes uncovered by the 1950 census. If the districts are not reapportioned, all would be elected in a state-wide vote next year.

Two earlier roadblocks dealing with Philadelphia affairs were disposed of by the upper branch yesterday.

In the house, agreement was near on how to revise legislation to require public employees, including teachers, to take oath that they are not subversive.

BULLETIN

Harrisburg, Dec. 18—(AP)—A bi-partisan senate committee, striving to solve a senate stalemate on congressional reapportionment, reported "very definite progress" today. Sen. A. H. Letzler (R-Clearfield), a committee member and vice-chairman of the senate reapportionment committee, told a newsman: "We feel very optimistic about our progress in this matter." Letzler declined, however, to say what, if any, controversial matters were ironed out. The senate meanwhile marked time pending the committee's struggle to reach an accord on the touchy issue.

Senate Democrats, meanwhile, made good on a threat to block appropriation bills unless Republicans came up with a reapportionment plan more acceptable to them.

Sen. John Dent, Democratic floor leader, declared his colleagues were not against the appropriations as such. Their opposition, he said, was the last weapon Democrats had against what he termed a "political monstrosity" in form of the GOP-sponsored reapportionment bill.

The senate resorted to a clock-stopping procedure in recessing early today. A "10-minute" recess of the rules committee was called with the tacit understanding on both sides that the senate return at 11 a. m. to continue work on Monday's business.

District Game Protector Interprets Law In Regard to Hunters Reporting Kills

David R. Titus, district game protector, called attention today to the fact that an Associated Press mention on yesterday's sports page has confused many local hunters in regard to the procedure to be used in reporting kills.

Mr. Titus clarified the matter by saying that every person who killed a legal big game animal, either deer or bear, in Pennsylvania this year is required to send to the Game Commission, Harrisburg, the completed big game report card supplied with his hunting license. This report must be made to the Commission "within five days following the close of the season for the animal killed, the game law states. UNION ISSUES STEEL STRIKE ULTIMATUM

BULLETIN
Washington, Dec. 18—(AP)—The government today called a meeting of the CIO Steel Workers Union and 10 big steel companies here on Thursday in an effort to head off a strike threatened for Dec. 31.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, messaged the 10 companies and the union that the possibility of a steel strike is a "matter of grave concern" to the people of the United States.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 18—(AP)—A strike ultimatum by the CIO United Steelworkers put up to the government today the next move to state of an economically crippling nation-wide steel strike New Year's Day.

Philip Murray, president of the million-member union, says a strike is unavoidable unless the industry grants his men a 15-cent hourly pay boost and other concessions.

Hanging in the balance is the nation's price and wage ceiling structure.

Government sources say present wage ceilings would permit an increase of only eight to nine cents an hour.

Steel industry spokesmen say they can't absorb the wage increase Murray demands without increasing prices.

That puts it right up to the government—how to head off a strike and keep the nation's economy on an even keel.

Cyrus S. Ching, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, told reporters in Washington he planned a mid-morning announcement today.

If the situation drifts steadily toward a certain steel strike, Mr. Truman could invoke the Taft-Hartley Act, he could refer the case to the Wage Stabilization Board for settlement recommendations, or he could make an 11th hour personal appeal to Murray for a strike delay.

Invoking Taft-Hartley would likely mean an 80-day court injunction against a strike. Most observers feel the administration will rely on Ching, the Wage Board and White House persuasion in dealing with the potentially explosive situation.

A strike against the nation's steel industry January 1 could be accompanied by a similar strike for the same demands—against a part of the aluminum industry.

The union has made no reported progress in its bargaining sessions with the Aluminum Company of America, largest producer in the country. The USW's contract with that firm, covering almost 20,000 workers in nine states, expired November 30 but was extended by mutual agreement to December 31.

BULLETIN

Chicago, Dec. 18—(AP)—A bare 30-foot Christmas tree was placed in the Congress street plaza in Grant Park yesterday and the only way it can be decorated is by blood and prayer.

Leonard Haddad, 33, a hospital corpsman in the South Pacific during World War II, put up the tree. He proposed that for every pint of blood donated to the Red Cross, he will put a red light on the tree. For every prayer for peace, he will add a white light.

Haddad, head of a fruit juice company, said his 65 truck drivers will solicit pledges for blood and prayers from the company's 25,000 customers.

More Snow During The Night Promised For Warren Area

With two inches of snow having fallen during the night, then resuming shortly after daybreak this morning, it is indicated that Warren may have a new six to eight inch blanket spread atop its earlier covering by tonight.

Weather predictions call for colder weather and snow tonight, with still more snow for tomorrow.

Augmented Borough and State Highway crews were busy on the streets and highways as the fall continued throughout the day, and Borough Manager L. M. McConnell issued an urgent request this morning for all motorists to have their cars off the streets by 1 a. m. so that adequate snow removal can be accomplished.

The Pennsylvania railroad reports having had to put its carpenter crew on snow removal work today because of having had to send a number of men to the Buffalo yards where a snowfall of three feet is reported.

WOULD HIKE FINES

Pittsburgh, Dec. 18—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Better Traffic Committee wants parking fines increased from $2 to $5. The committee presented the suggestion to city council yesterday and said the increase would help relieve midtown traffic congestion.

Action Expected On New Assessments

It is expected that Borough Council, at a special meeting called for 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, will approve revised assessments for properties on several Warren streets which were improved during the summer. The revision occurred when it was determined by Borough Solicitor S. Knox Harper that certain charges could not be legally included in the assessments.

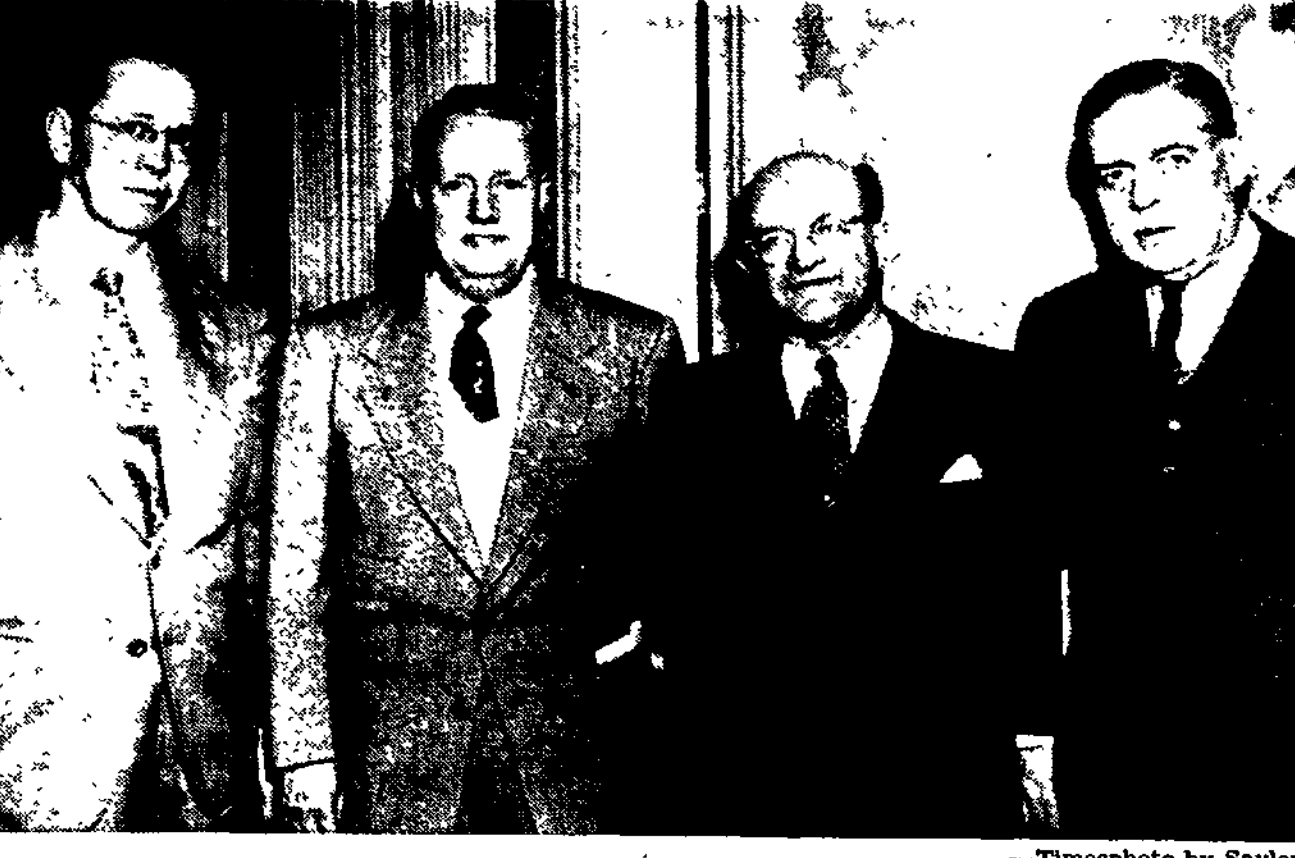

While there will be reductions in assessments against certain properties on each street, these will be minor except in the case of the assessments charged property owners on the so-called "hill streets."

Charges for extra intersection widths, driveways and lowering of sewers were found illegal by Mr. Harper, and a new assessment list has been compiled by Borough Engineer C. W. Barwis.

PASSENGER INJURED

Clara Bohren, 15 Dartmouth street, suffered a dislocation of a neck vertebrae in a two-car accident at Conewango and Pennsylvania avenue about 1:30 p. m. yesterday. She was not hospitalized. The car in which she was riding was operated by Virgil Bohren, same address, and proceeding east on Pennsylvania avenue. When it stopped for the traffic light, it was struck in the rear by a car operated by Bruce W. Foster, of Olean, N. Y. Damage to the Bohren car was estimated at $50, with none to the Olean car. City police investigated.

Boy Scout Council Names Officers at Annual Meeting

Byron W. Knapp, president and general manager of the Warren Gear Manufacturing Company and well known for his active interest in the civic betterment of Warren county, was named president of Warren County Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the Council's annual business meeting, Monday night.

Mr. Knapp succeeds Dr. Carl E. Whipple, superintendent of Borough schools, who becomes one of the three vice presidents, together with Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson of Sheffield, and Ivan S. Brumagin, the latter being reelected. Three other officers also were retained: Neil D. Paterson as treasurer, C. C. Winans as Council Commissioner and H. L. Banghart as National Council representative.

Elected as members of the Executive Board were the following: C. A. Babcock, Dr. W. L. Ball, C. W. Barwis, F. M. Cagney, Charles E. Frantz, William M. Hill, D. H. Howell, Rell Hoskins, Carl W. Rogers, T. R. Sponsler and W. L. Wehner, all of Warren; James A. Blomquist of North Warren; Henry Danielson of Pittsfield; C. H. Gardner and E. Wilbur Johnson of Ludlow; John M. Hickey of Clearmont; Robert L. Jones of Sheffield; H. J. Rue of Barnes; F. A. Schooner of Sugar Grove; David A. Smith, Jr. of Russell; and Dr. J. E. Thompson of Youngsville.

The Council will be composed of the official sponsoring institutional representatives, the Council officers, the Executive Board, and the following members-at-large, also elected last night: Chester S. Allen, Harry W. Conar, Walter S. Cox, Clare J. Cray, Elton W. Davis, Paul E. Harrington, MacLean Houston, Rev. William Maloney, H. A. Otterson, A. L. Rasmussen, Donald C. Smith, Dr. Robert S. Steen, O. C. Tritt, Judge Allison D. Wade and W. E. Yeager.

Last night's business meeting took place in the private dining room of the Carver Hotel where a broiled chicken dinner was served in a holiday atmosphere.

An impressive opening ceremony was conducted by a group of Boy Scouts from Troop 6 of St. Joseph's church, of which Joseph Ackis is Scoutmaster, and the invocation was given by Rev. M. E. Dalley, rector of Holy Redeemer church.

Dr. Whipple, Council president, welcomed his co-workers and several guests and then asked for committee reports from the following chairmen: Ivan S. Brumagin, finance; William H. Hill, advancement; William L. Wehner, activities; Calvin W. Barwis, camping; Dr. William L. Ball, health and safety; Charles E. Frantz, organization and extension; and Theodore R. Sponsler, training.

Mr. Hill proudly pointed out that Warren county now has nine Eagle Scouts after having had only one in 1950, and he said this record compares interestingly with that of Allegheny county, covering Pittsfield, where only four Scouts became Eagles this year.

"We have only scratched the surface," declared Mr. Hill. "It is up to all of us to talk advancement over the Council." He also declared that "you must keep the boy interested or you will lose him."

Mr. Frantz reported a total Council membership of 957, an increase of 157 over 1950, and said the goal for 1,000 was within sight. He reported the following communities without Scout activities: Grand Valley, Starbuck, Torpedo, Garland, Corydon, Tiona, Pittsfield, Bear Lake, Wrightsville and Dugal.

Mr. Barwis reported the work accomplished at Camp Olmsted and Jeffmore, and told of plans for the future. He asked and received the Council's approval for a survey of the Camp Olmsted property.

Mr. Sponsler reported an appreciable increase in the number of leaders receiving training, with 36 certificates awarded against none in 1950. "We have enlarged our approach to training," said Mr.

Indefinite Delay In Departure of Four Inductees Secured

An indefinite delay in the departure of four Warren county young men for induction into the armed services was secured this morning by Melvin G. Keller, Selective Service chairman for Warren county, which means the four will be at home for Christmas.

Due to leave for Erie Wednesday morning were Robert G. Walters of Youngsville, James L. Mott of Tidouste, Alfred E. Hazlett of Corry R. D., and Roland O. Carlson of Sugar Grove.

Mr. Keller talked by telephone with Major Henry R. Sherrard, assistant chief of the Selective Service manpower division, in Harrisburg, and it was indicated by Major Sherrard that the four may be added to the group of 17 scheduled to go from here to Harrisburg for induction, January 21.

Mrs. Ann Drahelm, clerk to the Board, was attempting to get word to the four boys this afternoon. No one of them has a telephone.

In connection with his committee report, Mr. Wehner introduced Scoutmaster Don Lauffer of Troop 5, as "the man responsible for seven new Eagle Scouts," and praised the earnest sponsorship of the troop by the Elks' Lodge. Mr. Lauffer received hearty applause.

Dr. Ball's report for the health and safety committee showed a very thorough coverage as did that of Mr. Brumagin's finance committee report during which he announced a $375 gift, on Monday, from a friend of the Council. In speaking of the fund campaign to take place in February, Mr. Brumagin said it is hoped to raise a sum which will evenly match the Community Chest allotment and announced that Harland J. Rue will be campaign chairman, assisted by Scout Executive E. R. Sanford, Robert L. Jones of Sheffield, and David A. Smith, Jr. of Russell.

The report of Mr. Paterson, the treasurer, showed that a budget of $12,350 has been set up for 1952, $7,000 of which is from the Community Chest, $200 from Corry, and the remaining $5,150 to be raised in the area campaign.

Council Commissioner Winans, whose over-all report was covered by the committee chairman, said he felt the Council had enjoyed a good year and he urged the men to greater efforts during 1952.

H. L. Banghart, former Council president and National Council representative, was asked by Dr. Whipple to introduce the speaker of the evening, Howard E. Eynon (Turn to Page Eight)

Snow Blankets Pennsylvania Again As Winter Tightens Grip After New Storm

By The Associated Press
Snow blanketed Pennsylvania again today as winter tightened its grip on the Keystone State with a new ice-laden storm.

Bearing a striking resemblance to the paralyzing five-inch fall of last Friday, the snow is expected to pile up to a depth of four to eight inches before changing to freezing rain tonight.

The snow, not expected until the afternoon, began falling in most parts of the state by 8 a. m. today. It was the same light powdery mixture that proved so treacherous to motorists last week.

As the snow piled up state highway cinderling crews suspended operations—and snowplows went to work. Though the major highways and streets remained open to traffic, travel was slow and precarious.

AP Correspondent Captured Over Year Ago Reported on Prisoner List of Reds

By The Associated Press
Ol' Pappy Noel may be coming home from the wars.

A Communist newsman said at Panmunjom Tuesday the 53-year-old AP photographer was on the Reds' list of prisoners.

Pappy, formally known as Frank, was captured by Chinese Reds near the Chongjin reservoir in northeast Korea Dec. 2, 1950.

Reports trickled out of Red territory from time to time that the Pulitzer prize winner of 1943 was well.

Noel was captured, a colleague said, because "his heart was too big."

He was supposed to have gone back to Tokyo for a rest. But Noel said, "Ol' Pappy is going to stay here. I feel better with the kids up at the front."

Noel was with the U. S. First Marine Division when the Chinese communists entered the Korean war.

He was right there when the Reds swooned down from the north and the Marines withdrew to the Hungnam beachhead.

He was with a convoy of Marines trying to reach an isolated regiment when the Communists pulled an ambush.

First reports were sketchy, but they indicated Noel was not hurt. Two Marines who were with him but later escaped said "he just sat and knelt in the frozen ditch beside the road and snapped pictures whenever he could. Frank Noel would make one hell of a marine."

Nearly six months later 19 American prisoners escaped from the Reds. They said they had seen Noel two months before, and that he was all right.

He walked with a slight limp, they said. The Reds had marched him 60 miles in freezing weather. When his feet nearly froze, he was allowed to finish the trip in an oxcart.

Noel's wife, Evelyn, is at Albany, N. Y. They have no children.

TOTALS FALL SHORT OF U.N. ESTIMATES

Tokyo, Wed., Dec. 18—(AP)—A Tokyo-bound plane bearing a Communist list of Allied war prisoners was grounded early today in Korea by fog. A dispatch from Korea said the plane probably would take off at 7 a. m., but best estimates in Tokyo were 8 a. m. (6 p. m. Tuesday, Eastern Standard Time.) That would mean that the lists may be available here by 9:15 to 10:15 p. m. Eastern Standard Time) allowing three hours for flight and the delays in getting the list from the airport to Allied headquarters, which will release the names. A B-26 light bomber had been standing by for hours to fly the list here. An order grounding the plane because of fog came almost as the prisoner list reached the airport. Even with daylight, there was no guarantee that the flight would start at any precise time.

Munsan, Korea, Dec. 18—(AP)—The Communists turned over to the United Nations today a list of 11,559 prisoners, including 3,198 Americans.

SAMPLE NOTIFICATION

Washington, Dec. 18—(AP)—The Defense Department today made available a sample notification to be used in advising relatives that their fighting men in Korea are listed by the enemy as prisoners of war.

The notification says: "The secretary of the army has asked me to inform you that the name (Doe, John J.) believed to be that of your (son, husband, etc.) is included in unverified list released by opposing forces of prisoners in their custody. No assurance as to accuracy can be given at this time. You will be advised as soon as possible without request on your part when names are verified."

"Signed
"William E. Bergin, Maj. Gen., U.S.A., the adjutant general of the Army."

They said the list includes all prisoners of the Korean war in their hands. The U. N. gave the Reds a list of 132,474 Chinese and North Korean prisoners. (Turn to Page Eight)

Three in Family Are Overcome by Gas

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Perett and baby, 646 Beech street, narrowly escaped death from carbon monoxide gas in their home shortly before one o'clock this morning when a gas heater in the basement of the house started sending the deadly gas through the rooms.

The victims first noticed their plight when Mr. Perett was enroute to the kitchen to secure a glass of water for his wife and collapsed on the floor. Summoned alarmed, Mrs. Perett called Dr. Raymond Lowe, who administered treatment and called the fire department for use of the

School A Capella Choir Provides Rotary Members and Ladies Christmas Program

Warren Rotarians, with their ladies as guests, again enjoyed a Christmas program presented by the A Capella Choir of the High school, Monday noon, at the holiday luncheon meeting in the YWCA auditorium. The club came within two members of having a 100 per cent attendance.

Rev. Dr. A. B. McCormick offered the invocation before the luncheon was served at tables centered with spruce and candles under a room-sized canopy of falling snowflakes. The choir took places on a triple dais, facing the diagonally set tables, and was joined by the audience in an opening song, "O Come All Ye Faithful," after which the young singers pleased with a choral greeting, "We Wish You a Merry Christmas," an old English folk song.

Martin Carlson, president of the choir, announced the first group of numbers. In "The Shepherd's Story" by Dickinson, Bob Cowden and Jim Cooney sang tenor solos; Dick Smith, a baritone solo; Beverly Taft and Gerry Aquist, soprano solos. "We Saw Him Sleeping," a composition of Booth, was the next number with Beverly Taft as soprano soloist. The last number in this group was a Negro spiritual, "Go Tell It On the Mountains."

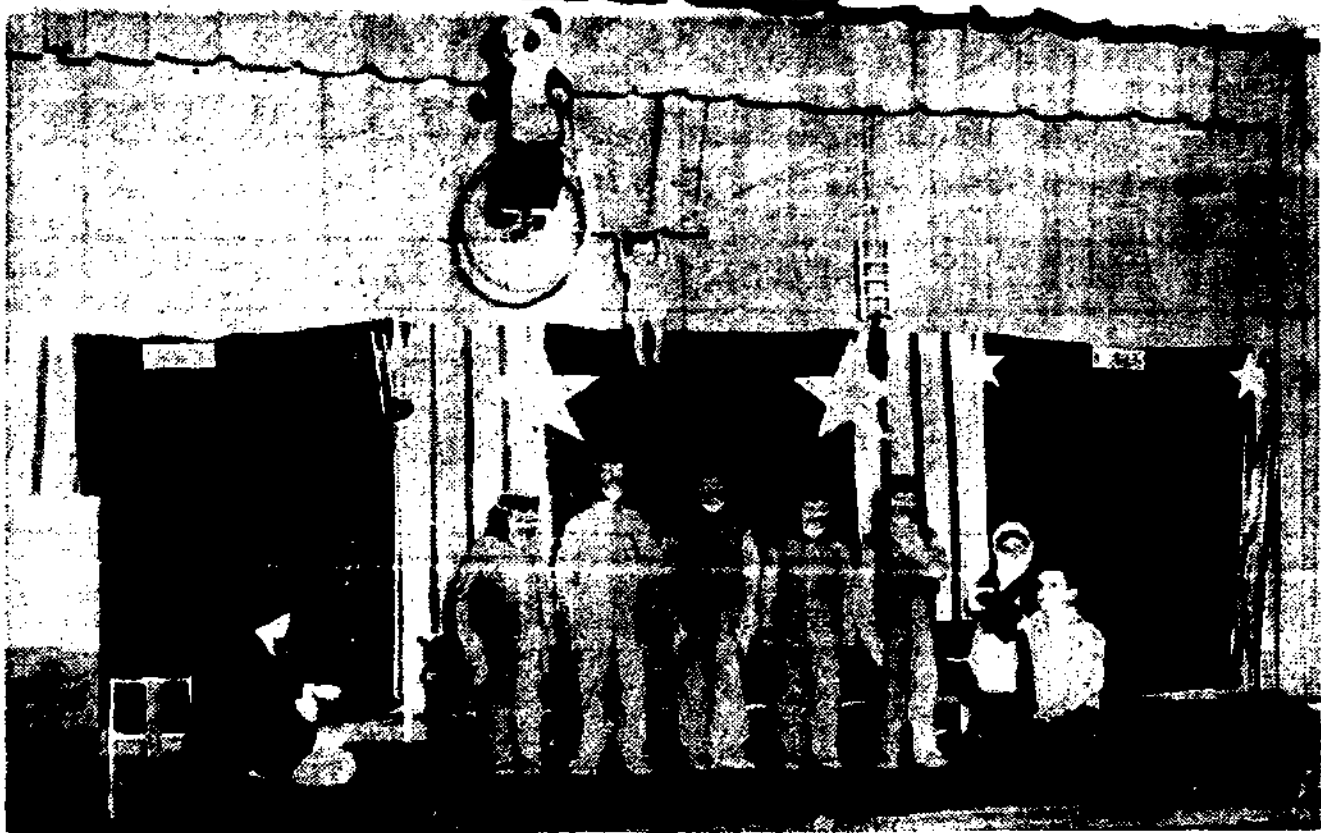

The choir then divided to opposite sides of the large room, and joined with the audience in singing four familiar tunes, "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," "The First Nowell," "Deck the Hall," and "Jingle Bells."

The first number in the second group was "Christmas Snows of Sweden," a Swedish carol in which Patricia Larson was soprano soloist and for which Stavroula Fanos was accompanist, followed by "Sweetly Angel Choirs Are Singing," a Slovakian carol, "Carol of the Bells," a Ukrainian carol, and concluded with "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah" by Handel, with Carol Barrett as accompanist.

In closing the memorable event, President W. E. Lutz read the Rotary International benediction and the audience joined with the choir in singing "Silent Night." Mr. Lutz expressed to the choir and to its very able director, Carroll A. Fowler, the sincere appreciation of the Rotarians and their ladies.

Chairman Outlines 1952 Agricultural Conservation Plan

"The job we face is one of bringing the land now in use . . . to a high level of economic production on a sustained basis. We need to offset soil deterioration generally, and on many soils go even further and build them up to higher levels of productivity."

According to Clyde A. Zehner, chairman of the Pennsylvania PMA committee, that statement of Dr. Robert M. Salter, new chief of the Soil Conservation Service, briefly sets out the objectives of the 1952 Agricultural Conservation Program.

As the chairman sees it, the first job of ACP is to check deterioration to prevent the soil from becoming less and less productive as the thin layer of topsoil is washed or blown away. But hand in hand with this is the job of restoring and improving the productivity of the land.

Cropping as well as erosion depletes the soil of plant food. He points out that on an acre of fertile soil growing a cultivated crop such as corn, the productivity decline may be as great as when 20 tons of topsoil are lost through erosion.

Chairman Zehner stresses that the nation is faced with the challenge of producing enough to meet defense needs and at the same time keeping our land productive to meet even greater demands in the future. The Agricultural Conservation Program, he points out, is one of the tools available to farmers to help them protect, preserve and build up the soil on their farms.

Warren Boy Choir members will don stocking caps, warm scarves and woolly coats tomorrow evening and set out on a tour of Warren for their annual Carol Sing. The choir will assemble at the Trinity Memorial church and will begin the tour from that point at about 7 p. m.

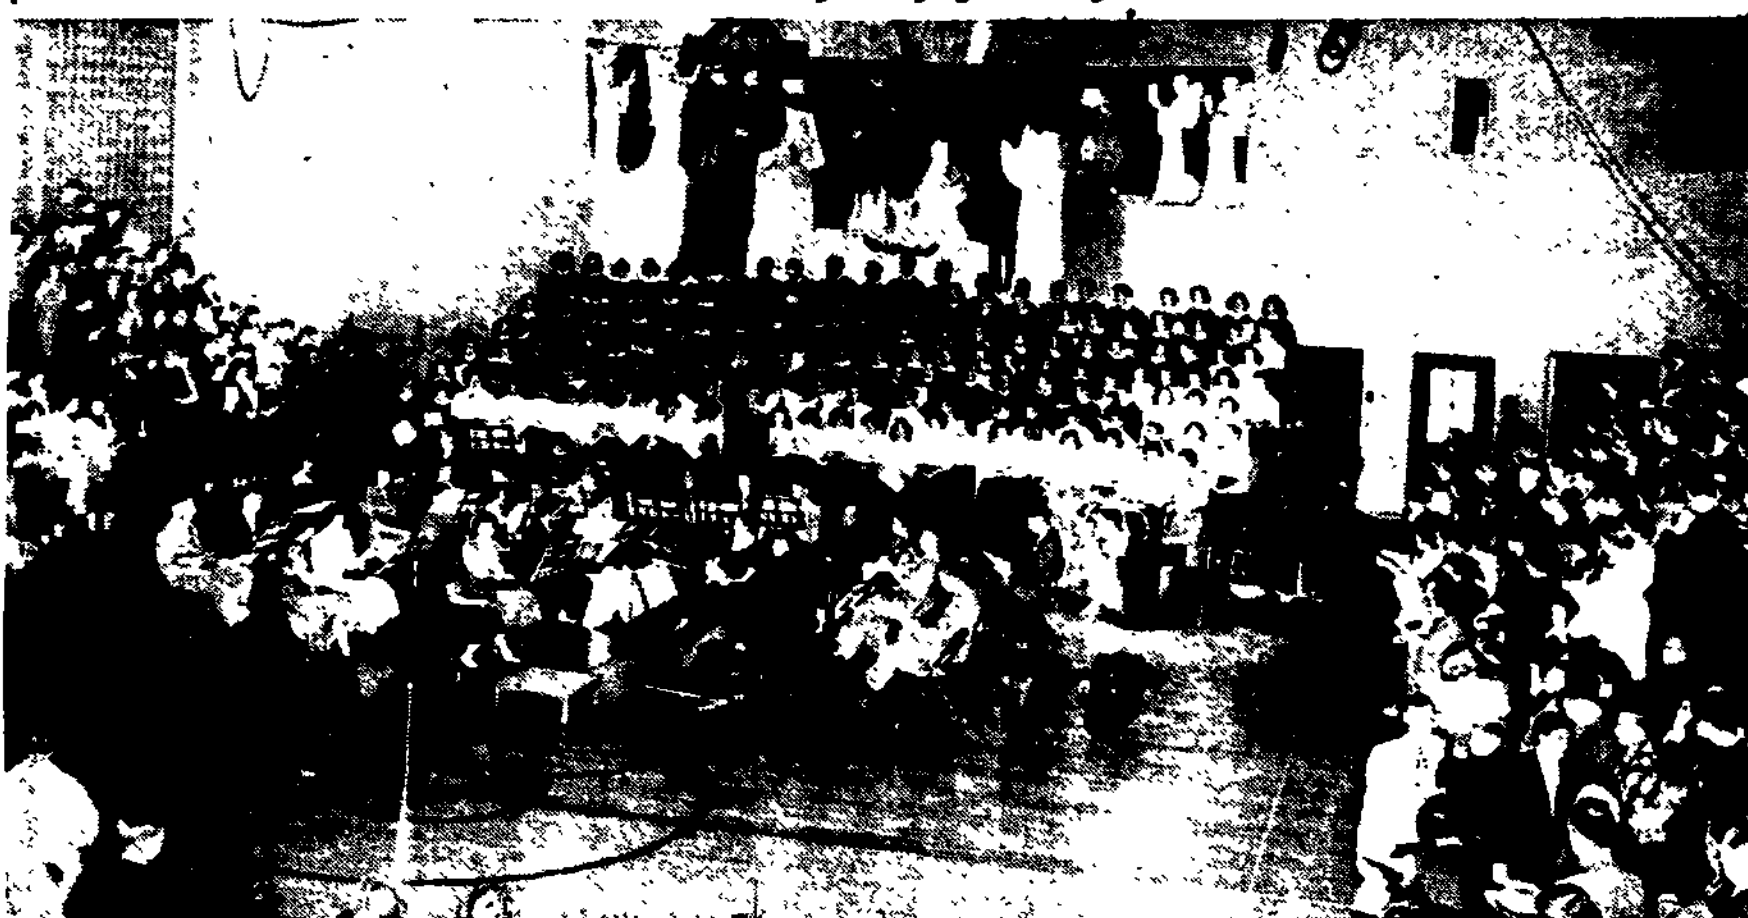

The boys, dressed in their gay attire, seated on a hay-covered truck, will present a picture reminiscent of old-world Christmas scenes. Stops will be made at the Watson Home, the Children's Home, the Gibson Home on Prospect street, the Keystone Home, the downtown business section and the hospital, and should reach the business section about 8:15 p. m.

The boys will be entertained at the conclusion of the evening at a party given by Dr. J. T. Valone.

Carol Festival at Beaty Enjoyed by Record Crowd

What was probably the largest crowd ever to assemble in Beaty gym was present last night to hear and take part in the annual Christmas Carol Festival of the combined Warren High School choirs and orchestra. While no accurate count was available, it was estimated that approximately one thousand persons were there, in addition to the 165-voice choir and the entire orchestra.

To open the program, a small band of about eight pieces played "O, Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Away in the Manger" from the hall while lights in the gymnasium were dimmed, thus setting the mood for the evening.

With both audience and choir singing, Carroll A. Fowler, director of choral music, and Harry Summers, director of instrumental music, alternated at song-leading and accompanying. The crowd responded, not always musically, but wholeheartedly in the carol singing and enjoyed every minute of it.

Following selections from Handel's Messiah, sung by the A Cappella choir, the orchestra played a group of three numbers, concluding with a modern arrangement by Grossman of a "Christmas Fantasy" which included such old favorites as Jingle Bells, Silent Night, Adeste Fideles, and The Hallelujah Chorus.

The highlight of the program, as usual, was the A Cappella rendition of a group of Christmas songs, with two encores added for good measure. In addition to the program as appearing in the Times-Mirror last Friday, the choir sang "Sweetly Angel Choirs Are Singing" and the Fred Waring arrangement of the "Carol of the Bells."

It is every coach's ambition to come up with a winning team each year, and the praises of those who do it are sung from end to end of the entire country.

Carroll Fowler, who takes raw material with no more natural ability for singing than young athletes have for any branch of sports, manages somehow to whip up a winner each year and mold a group whose tone, diction and harmony are of the highest order. One could have heard a pin drop in the gym last night, and the sacred music sung created in the listeners a feeling of reverence at least as great as that created in any church.

The program was concluded with former choir members joining the chorus in the "Hallelujah Chorus," and the entire audience singing and humming "Silent Night."

Director Fowler is profuse in his praises of the wholehearted cooperation of many school groups in preparations and staging of the Festival, with particular mention of Betty Lou Rishberger, Beaty art instructor, and the following students who prepared the decorations and mural: Lynette Anderson, Sandra Stone, Joanne Marshall, Beverly Johnson, Susan Peterson, Andrea Wright and Donna Hewitt. The mural at the rear of the choir, done in three sections and totaling 28 feet in length, was sewed together by a group of eighth grade boys. About the walls and entrance to the gym were angel cut-outs, and attached to the side partitions were abstract stained glass windows in geometric design, also the work of Miss Rishberger's group. Lighted Christmas trees and greens at the east end of the room completed the setting.

Another art group assisting with the plans were Mrs. Gerda Lawrence and the following high school pupils who prepared the attractive Festival posters: Grechen Van Tassel, Bill Summers, Sylvia Smith, Carlton Jones, Charles Fisher, Leonard Conticello, Gerard Bancroft, Charles Stranberg, Jim Macgroch, Robert Alspaugh, Bill Groesch and Jim Sturdevant. Miss Clara Spade of the high school English department supervised publicity prepared by Gerry Agquist in advance of the affair. Beauty-Johnson announcing and John fully illustrated programs given Drum monitoring the program.

The audience were the work of Miss Jean Steele and her commercial department pupils at the high school.

Assisting with the task of placing chairs, ushering and distributing programs were these members of the school athletic department: Dave Berdine, Chuck Conaway, Glenn Culbertson, Sam Gerardi, George Scalise, "Bud" Terry, Dean Vestling (in charge), Frank Viola, Dick Walchli, Clark Wright.

Appreciation was also expressed to Principals Floyd Bathurst and Herbert Harris for their help in supervising the students before the concert; and to Thomas Heeter, Harry Hedges and Percy Hogue, janitors who worked under the supervision of Claude Feiro in heating the building for the special Sunday rehearsals, erecting bleachers, hanging of the mural, and placing of chairs.

Hundreds who were unable to enjoy the Festival in person had the privilege of hearing it broadcast over WRRN, with Francis in advance of the affair. Beauty-Johnson announcing and John fully illustrated programs given Drum monitoring the program.

From Will Rogers' column: Mukden—League of Nations is sending here a commission to look over the ground. That's like a sheriff examining the stall after the horse has disappeared. Now I am here on the ground and can do that for half the money and will send in the same report they will, only shorter. By the way, up in Harbin Saturday I was offered the governorship of North Manchuria by Gen. Ma, so if the league wants me they will have to act quick. Which, of course, they can't.

THE SONGS OF CHRISTMAS

In 1854 the full choir of the Imperial Church of Berlin sang it before Emperor Frederick William IV. He immediately ordered it to be placed first in all religious Christmas programs.

Any list of favorite Christmas carols is likely to include "Good King Wenceslas," "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "Joy to the World," "While Shepherds Watched."

Of course "We Three Kings of Orient Are," which is based on the story of the wise men from the east, who came to worship the infant Jesus and bring Him gifts.

FLAWS IN PRISONER EXCHANGE PLAN

The Communists at the Korean truce talks are acting as though they want to use the exchange of prisoners of war to pick up a few international bargains.

The Reds have proposed a "simple" swap of all prisoners in the Korean war. Under the plan, as described by Sigrid Arne, Associated Press news analyst, both sides would just turn over all the prisoners they are holding. That sounds straightforward enough, but as Arne reminds, "it isn't!"

The U. N. negotiators, headed by Rear Admiral R. E. Libby, have to remember what happened after World War II. Moscow held onto German and Japanese prisoners for years. Thousands are still believed to be working in Russian slave camps.

Libby wants to be sure in the Korean talks that all prisoners on hand are really turned over: none left for slave labor to serve Moscow's purposes. Or none left to serve the new slave camps in Red China.

Here are some of the troubles in the talks:

The United Nations holds more prisoners than the Reds say they hold. The U. N. reports about 160,000 Red prisoners.

The Reds have claimed through radio Peiping that they hold 139,000 U. N. prisoners. But they have never made a report on where the camps are, and they have never admitted the International Red Cross to their camps. Some U. N. officials doubt the Red report and think Red prisoners may be as few as 39,000.

So Libby's negotiating staff is demanding that the Reds supply a list of names of prisoners of war before they begin to negotiate the manner in which the prisoners will be turned over.

Libby has to think of many angles.

The U. N. suspects that the Reds are holding from 70,000 to 85,000 men from the South Korean Army alone. Unless they are listed before the swap, how can Libby be sure that the Reds will send all South Koreans home?

If the South Koreans are not sent home it means the South Korean army will be weakened by all the fighting men who are not returned. It may mean that those held will have to work for the Reds.

On the other side, in the U. N. prisoner camps there are many North Koreans and Chinese who have come to understand the free world approach to life, and who don't want to return to the Red orbit. The free world has always given "asylum" to the man who refused to return to a political area where he might be killed for his political beliefs.

If Libby agreed to the Reds' proposal of "all for all" in Korea, he would have to forget about the Chinese and North Koreans who no longer agree with Communism. It would be a difficult thing to do, since most of the men would be known, and would be slated for Red punishment.

Most important to Americans, there are estimates of 11,000 U. S. soldiers missing in the Korean war. The U. S. would like a list of those before the prisoner exchange paper is signed, so that each man's papers can be checked as he returns to free territory and so that the U. S. can be sure all of its prisoners are returned.

TO CLEAN UP AUTO GRAVEYARDS

If humanity cannot avoid some bitter with the sweet, it is no less true that sometimes sweet comes with the bitter, reminds the Salamanca Press, in reporting that the steel shortage cramping the American public is not without compensations—such as the outlook for doing away with a lot of the unsightly "automobile cemeteries" scattered around the country.

An order designed to force 2,000,000 tons of iron and steel scrap from the yards of auto wreckers has been issued by the National Production Authority. NPA says that some 7,000,000 motor vehicles are held in these wrecking yards, and that the hulks of wrecked cars five or more years old contain at least 2,000,000 tons of iron and steel.

The order is expected to move not only two million tons of iron and steel scrap needed by steel mills this winter, but also large quantities of non-ferrous scrap that would otherwise not move until months later. Sizable quantities of copper and lead scrap are said to be included in the materials in the auto "graveyards".

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Expect New UMT Plan to Sell Itself to Its Many Opponents

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Proponents of the new universal military training program, which will become a hot issue soon after Congress reconvenes, believe they've got a plan this time the country will buy.

They think that most of the people are sold on the need for UMT. And they believe that the program just proposed by the National Security Training Commission reduces to an absolute minimum the complaints that the traditional opponents of UMT have always offered.

It calls for six months of training, which, they believe, isn't long enough to wreck any boy's civilian career. Training starts when a boy reaches 18.

There will be rigorous moral supervision of them while they are in the training corps. At the end of training they will have to serve in one of the civilian reserve components of the services for seven and one-half years.

Trainees will get $30 per month, a free $10,000 life insurance policy which will continue four months after they are out, allotments to dependents and disability benefits equal to those given veterans.

A GREAT deal of the traditional opposition to universal training has come from educators, the labor unions and the churches. The six months reduces the antagonism of the educators.

Relative shortness of the training also spikes the main objection of the unions which was that it would interfere with a boy's job career. Also, boys are guaranteed reemployment rights.

And the emphasis on strict moral guidance in the program should pacify to some extent the church opposition.

Top policy on the character of the training program will be made by the National Security Training Commission, composed mostly of prominent civilians. Among a long list of proposed regulations is the following:

"No beer should be sold in a UMT training area. All taverns and bars within a reasonable distance from UMT camps or stations should be off-limits to trainees, and a penalty would be attached to the keeper of such a place, wherever located, if he knowingly permits a trainee to enter and purchase an intoxicating drink."

The question of who can be deferred from training, and who might be drafted for regular military service and who might be put into the UMT program, the Commission recommends, should be decided locally by draft boards.

IF the services are drafting men for regular military duty at the same time men are being selected for training, the local draft boards will have a very difficult problem on their hands.

They will have to decide what boys will go for six months and what boys for 21 months of regular duty. It will be a tough decision.

Training will be strictly military. The Army plans to give the first 17 weeks over to basic training. Next six weeks will be training with units and some leadership instructions. The balance will be schooling in special Army subjects.

Training by the Navy would be similar, with sea duty being the last phase.

The Air Force plans to give eight weeks of basic training, 16 weeks of specialist training, followed by duty with regular units of the Air Force.

All three services would give men training in many subjects which could help them when they get out, including training in communications, vehicle maintenance, personnel work, law enforcement, and medical work.

Here And There

Fifty years ago The Warren Evening Times was running as a holiday feature, a column under the heading "Christmas Hints," consisting of short paragraphs as advertisements by retailers and other business places in the community. We are sure older residents will enjoy reading them:

Mixed candies and nuts at Bogart's, east side. . . . Way's mufflers, 25c to $1, George Ball Clothing Co. . . . Both beautiful and ornamental to suit the taste and purse of everyone, are the diamond and opal rings that are temptingly displayed at Magee and Eichenberg's. . . . Hear the latest talking machine at F. Barnhart's store, next door to the Carver House. . . . A special sale of watch chains and cuff links at Schwing's today. . . . Twenty-five Havana filled cigars in a neat box make a nice Christmas present from A. S. Bogart. . . . One of Folkman's nice cushions is a soft place to lay your weary head. . . . Military brushes are becoming more and more popular each year and Magee and Eichenberg's have them in sterling silver and ebony and nicely cased in beautiful boxes. . . . A good Christmas present for your son, and one that will be helpful to him is a membership in the YMCA. . . . A most beautiful Christmas present is one of those lovely diamond brooches at Magee and Eichenberg's. . . . A neat Christmas present and one that will be appreciated is a pair of Dolge's felt slippers from C. Smith, in either red or black at $1. . . . See what Boeschlin has to offer in fancy smoking articles. . . . Yoke overcoats from $10 to $100 at George Ball's. . . . Maybanks and Jaynes have everything that could be desired in smoker's goods and cigars. . . . Grip tags, coat, hat and cane markers at Magee's and Eichenberg's.

Interspersed among the items are a few terse comments pertaining to Christmas and the yuletide season, among which are found:

Now doth the busy little maid, Right jubilantly sing, The while she stirs the candy that Will stick on everything.

Christmas soon here. What shall I get? Why did I put it off so long? What can I do? Well about the only thing we can suggest is that you make your selections at once and not lose any more time. Do your shopping early in the morning. It can be done more advantageously.

The woman who was won by a violin instead of Dan Cupid's bow is now seeking a divorce.

Ananias was not talking of a Santa Claus when he was struck dead.

If you positively must load the fountain pen before placing it in the stocking, for goodness sake use water instead of ink.

What is a Christmas dinner without Biblical measures? Let the boy eat all he can.

Take the price marks off before sending your gifts. You may thereby get credit for being much more generous than you really are.

If a tree catches fire don't waste any time with blankets or water, but dig out to the corner where there is a fire alarm.

New Year's resolutions are being incubated.

Most girls will take it as an implied compliment if you give her a mirror for a Christmas present.

This 'n' That: Robert Cross, aged 99 years, of North Girard, is the first guest of the new Presbyterian home at 701 North Perry street, Titusville, purchased in October from John B. Chick by the Presbytery of Erie and administered by the Presbyterian Home and Hospital, Inc., as a home for the aged. . . . In case you have forgotten retail stores associated with the Chamber of Commerce will be open until nine o'clock p. m., beginning Wednesday evening through Saturday, of this week. . . . Judge Lee A. McCracken, president judge of Venango county courts, is reported "improved" at the Oil City Hospital where he has been a patient since stricken ill last Friday afternoon at his home. . . . Incomplete official returns indicate that archers, in their first separate buck deer season in Pennsylvania, October 15-17 inclusive, took 31 antlered deer with bow and arrow. . . . Raymond Schultz, 20, of Erie, a deer hunter, heading for the woods with his left leg in a cast, suffered a possible fracture of the former break early Saturday a mile east of Union City on Route 6, when a car operated by Charles Miller, 18, of Erie, careened out of control and smashed into a utility pole. . . . Officers of Warren Commandery No. 63 are completing plans for the annual program staged in the Temple at twelve o'clock noon on Christmas Day, and to which all Masons are invited. . . . Looks like New Year's Day open house programs may be curtailed in some clubs week after next because of reduced incomes due to a clamping down on activities that have been sources of revenue in the past. . . . Many local wage earners are finding income tax forms being delivered.

News From County Agent

Medium Weight Hogs Best For Butchering

With healthy, medium weight hogs on hand, the home butchering program is set for a satisfactory start. Assistant County Agent, Paul Hoke explains that "animals in medium condition make the most desirable carcasses. Don't let them get too fat."

Hogs in medium condition, weighing 200 to 250 pounds, produce the most satisfactory meat for curing or eating fresh; they produce the handy size cuts that cure to the center without getting the outside too salty and strong.

In slaughtering hogs, use a hammer or sledge, or a gun before bleeding, or a sharp knife may be used to bleed them alive. A good bleed is the important essential as it insures better keeping qualities of the meat.

Scalding and scraping must be done properly to get a good looking carcass. Scald in water 143 to 155 degrees—hotter if the hog is removed at once when the hair starts to loosen. Over-scalding sets the hair and adds a job of shaving.

For the uniform scald, keep the hog moving in the water and remove when the hair and scruff slip easily. With bell scraper or dull knife, scrape with the hair, and clean the head and feet first.

When cleaned, the carcass is ready to be hung on a gambrel inserted beneath the tendons of the rear legs. Rinse with clean water and scrape off any remaining hair. Remove the tongue, split the carcass up the front and remove the entrails.

Next, remove the leaf, or kidney fat. This aids in the cooling process. Cool the carcass rapidly in a temperature of 34 to 45 degrees. Do not let it freeze. A good plan is to kill in the afternoon and allow the carcass to cool over night. The next day more attractive cuts can be made from the chilled meat. Protect the fresh meat from flies, and since it absorbs readily, keep away from paint, tar, gasoline or kerosene.

Want an 'Over-50' Club? Then Start One Yourself

NO column of recent months has brought me as many enthusiastic letters as the one I wrote not long ago about a social club recently organized in our town for older men and women.

Some of the letters were from men and women who belong to a club. All of those were heart-warming in their enthusiasm. Belonging to a social club made up of people their own age seemed to mean so much to those men and women that their letters were more than cheerful—they were downright peppy.

Other letters, however, came from lonely men and women who wished "someone" would start a club like that in their town.

For those who are still hoping "someone" will get going on the idea, I quote from a letter from a woman who got busy and organized such a club herself.

She writes from a town in Texas. "I came here about a year ago, after I lost my husband, to be near my children. But I was so lonesome I knew I had to have an outlet of some kind. The idea suddenly came to me that I could start a club and help out the other lonely people in this town."

NEWSPAPER AD GETS RESULTS

"I ADVERTISED in the paper and got good response and one of the local housing agency offices had a nice recreation hall that we could use every Friday night. We started off with only 8 members. We played checkers, card games and danced.

"We use a record player and on several occasions people who have string instruments have played for us. One of our members plays an accordion.

"Our club is growing all the time—and it has already brought together two couples who have married."

Well, there you are. If you want that "over-fifty" club, don't wait for "somebody" to start it. Start it yourself and watch it grow.

Legion Post and Auxiliary Visit Hospital Vets

—Timesphoto by Saylor

CHRISTMAS GIFT BOXES for veterans who are patients at Warren State Hospital were packed and gaily wrapped, Sunday, by American Legion Auxiliary members in advance of their Monday night visit to the hospital. Shown above, left to right, are: Mrs. LeRoy Meeder, chairman, Mrs. Roland Wilson, Mrs. Ella Mauk, Mrs. Ella Wallace, Mrs. Margaret Rowland, Mrs. Helena Fox, Mrs. Hazel Patchen, Mrs. Katherine Foy, Mrs. Florence Foy, and Mrs. Lucille Wilson. Additional workers, busy at other tasks when the picture was taken, were Mrs. Mary Rowland, Mrs. Florine Larson, Mrs. Marjorie Scott and Mrs. Alberta Germonito.

Christmas music and Christmas spirit filled the old chapel at Warren State Hospital, Monday evening, when members of Chief Complanter Post 135, American Legion, and the Ladies' Auxiliary entertained war veteran patients of the hospital at the annual holiday party.

Louis Vizza, commander of the Post, acted as master of ceremonies and gave the veterans a rousing welcome to the party. There was plenty of entertainment by a group of willing entertainers, headed by Alice Fehlman, who sang several numbers and led carol singing by the entire gathering.

Adelaide Swanson and Walter Whaley favored with piano duets, and there was music by Ben Huckabone's Rhythm Rascals, an energetic little band composed of Sandra Johnson, Max Schwanke and Jack Huckabone, accordionists, Perle Huckabone with the guitar and Gary Huckabone at the drums.

Refreshments were served by the Auxiliary members, with Mrs. LeRoy Meeder as chairman, and each patient received a box of goodies from the Auxiliary and a gift box from the American Legion, Department of Pennsylvania. Cartons of cigarettes were provided through the courtesy of Trinity Memorial church. Mrs. Meeder and Mr. Vizza were assisted by Mrs. Ella Mauk, Mrs. Hazel Patchen, Mrs. Lucille Wilson, Mrs. Marjorie Scott, Robert Lundburg, Jack Barr, Anthony Lucia and Clarence Bowers.

There was a large attendance of veteran patients, and those unable to be present also were remembered with gift boxes.

On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Meeder and her assistants met at the Legion Home where the boxes were packed with fruit cake, candy, gum and cigarettes. Assisting Mrs. Meeder were Mrs. Ella Wallace, Mrs. Helena Fox, Mrs. Hazel Patchen, Mrs. Florence Foy, Mrs. Ella Mauk, Mrs. Mary Rowland, Mrs. Florine Larson, Mrs. Margaret Rowland, Mrs. Lucille Wilson, Mrs. Marjorie Scott, Mrs. Wilda Wilson, Mrs. Katherine Foy and Mrs. Alberta Germonito. Each box was gaily wrapped by the ladies.

General Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo said it understood the Communist list includes Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, lost commander of the U. S. 24th Division. Dean has been missing since the fall of Taejon in July 1950.

Communist newsmen at Panmunjom said Associated Press Photographer Frank Noel was also listed.

Lists were exchanged Tuesday when Communist truce negotiators suddenly capitulated to U. N. demands. The prisoner subcommittee recessed until Thursday. Rear Adm. R. E. Libby, U. N. member of the committee, said the purpose was to study the lists.

Of the 11,599 names on the Communist lists, a U. N. command communique reported: 7,142 are South Korean, 3,198 American, 919 British, 234 Turkish, 40 Filipino, ten French, six Australian, four South African, three Japanese, and one each from Canada, Greece and The Netherlands.

The Communist lists fell far short of previous public Allied estimates of perhaps 100,000 or more.

The 3,198 Americans listed as prisoners compare with approximately 12,000 Americans officially listed as missing in action.

But a reliable source in Tokyo said there probably was "no great disparity" between the official U. S. Army estimates of the number of prisoners the Reds hold and the

Feeding of Wild Turkeys Is Planned

With the conclusion of deer season, the district game protectors are turning to the feeding of the flocks of wild turkeys which abound in Warren county.

David R. Titus, one of the officials, said today that the birds are extremely wild at present, due to the excitement of the hunting season, but will soon tame down and appear in large numbers.

Right now, they seem to be in seclusion and few are seen although several have appeared the last few days at one of the feeding stations.

Mr. Titus says that great help is rendered by lease workers and pipe line walkers who aid the game protectors in getting corn to the turkeys, and make reports of turkey flocks as they see them. The turkey is one species of game bird which responds to winter feeding, and huge quantities of corn on the cob are provided them.

Warren Couple Has 55th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Sechrist of 7 West street, lifelong residents of Warren county, quietly celebrated their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary, Monday, and were entertained by their daughters at dinner, last evening, at the Jackson Heights Restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Sechrist were married at the old Amann home, instead at Hatch Run where Mrs. Sechrist, who was Celestina Amann, was born. They resided there many years and their children were born in the old home of their mother. The daughters are Mrs. Helen Kays, Mrs. Emil Schwab and Mrs. Gunnert Pedersen. They, together with Mr. Schwab and Mr. Pedersen, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Sechrist last evening, and then went to the Sechrist home where a social evening was enjoyed.

The Sechrist's, who are 84 and 74 years of age, respectively, have seven grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. The grandchildren remembered them with beautiful flowers.

Mr. Sechrist was a farmer and tool dresser for many years, and despite his age is still active, being part time caretaker at Watson Memorial Home.

of St. Mary's, president of the Pure Carbon Company and member of the Region III Executive Committee of the Boy Scouts. Mr. Banghart said that "Mr. Eynon is a shining example of a business executive who has devoted a great deal of time and effort to promote civic affairs in his community, and also an enormous amount of time to Boy Scout work." Mr. Banghart said it was largely through

Mr. Eynon's efforts that his Council has been put on a firm basis.

Mr. Eynon's subject was "The Three-Year Program of the Boy Scouts of America." He praised the work of the organization as a force against Communistic tendencies and declared that Communism will ultimately deteriorate from within itself. He said he determined, when he first became interested in Scouting, to learn the why of it. "Take a trip into the woods where God is," he said, "and the rules are above man-made rules." Mr. Eynon said that he discovered, as a member of the National Association of Manufacturers, that many leaders therein were also active in Scouting, "both spiritually and materially." He said an appeal must be made to a boy's ability, and that if he learns the principles of Scouting, they will become habitual, a matter of character. "I do not tell people to give until it hurts," said Mr. Eynon in referring to campaign fund work. "I tell them to give until it feels good. I've found out that the more I give, the more I make." Mr. Eynon quoted several excerpts from an address given by Dr. Ray G. Wyland, director of the division of relationship of the Boy Scouts, at the recent District III meeting at Old Point Comfort, Va.

Dr. Whipple thanked all the Council members for their services during his administration and praised the work accomplished. "You fellows gathered around this table are responsible for this program," said Dr. Whipple. "Finally, a challenge to you: keep on doing in a world where the boys need it." Dr. Whipple announced that Dr. Louis A. Warren, head of the Lincoln Foundation, has been secured as speaker at the recognition meeting, January 31. Dr. Whipple asked Mr. Banghart to induct the new officers, and the incoming president, Mr. Knapp, spoke briefly at the close of the meeting.

St. John's Selected As No. 1 Team, Then Loses to Kentucky

By JOHN CHANDLER
New York, Dec. 18—(P)—St. John's University of Brooklyn was rated the No. 1 college basketball team in the country today in the weekly Associated Press poll, but you can't convince the University of Kentucky.

Notes of the nation's sports writers and sportscasters were cast over the weekend. The weekly poll closed Monday afternoon, several hours before Kentucky and St. John's met at Lexington, trouncing the Redmen, 81 to 40.

One hundred and three ballots were received and St. John's got 36 first place votes to only 15 for Kentucky, which was ranked No. 2 a week ago. St. John's, which had won five straight games up until the Kentucky games, was No. 28 last week. This time, the Redmen received a total of 837 points, while Kentucky got 687.

The voting obviously was influenced by Kentucky's upset defeat at the hands of Minnesota last week, 61-57. St. John's had thumped Rhode Island State Saturday night, 82-62.

TEXAS, PAUL'S ARE WINNERS IN FAST TILTS

Basketball action on the "X" court last night topped anything yet in the YMCA-City Loop this season, when a capacity crowd watched the Texas Lunch quintet snatch its fifth straight win from under the nose of the Style Shop.

The results of the contests left the standings in the same order, strengthening the Texans' first place lead, while the College Lads and Shoppers still remain in a two-way tie for second with 3-2 records.

It took a last three-minute surge to give the Texas Lunch squad its victory after a nip and tuck ball game from the start. In the first period, the Style Shop five retained the lead most of the time but the score was tied seven times and the margin never went over two points.

Carrying a one-point advantage into the second frame, the Stylers rallied for 23 counters to pull out a 38-28 half time score. But it wasn't until after six minutes of play that the losers could by-pass Texas Lunch by more than three points, then Stud Simpson sank a free toss, Ralph Fisher hit on a one-hander, and Jack White swished one of his many from mid-court.

The Texans picked up seven of their eight point deficit in the third canto. In the first half of the section Don Baldensperger hit for the only Style Shop two-pointer, while Bob Reese, Joe Scalise, Carmen Colosimo, and Ed Lindberg each contributed FG's and Bob Foley and Colosimo free throws to tie the game 38 all. Massa made good a free throw, but Reese and Scalise both found the hoop to pull Texas Lunch in front by three marks and the two squads again battled back and forth until the horn.

Reese tipped one in to start off the scoring in the last quarter and from then on the victors were never passed, blasting out 17 points compared with a mere three field goals by the defenders. Eight of the 17 were scored by Scalise, five by Colosimo, and two by Lindberg and Reese.

Ripping the cords for 19 points, Scalise walked off with the night's scoring laurels, and was trailed by Lindberg with 13 for Texas Lunch. Ralph Fischer and Simpson tied with 12 apiece for the Style Shop.

Joe Frisinali and Dick Knight, imported material, paced Paul's Atlantic last half scoring spree that won them their 55-47 verdict after a close three-quarter game. Frisinali popped five FG's from out front and made seven of eight from the black stripe for a 17 total and Knight tallied 15. Playing his nicest game of the season, Bobby Wolfe lead the losers with 12 counters, followed by Hud and Chuck Berdine with 11 each.

At the half-time the Schoolboys were favored with a 25-21 score and were only on the short end 37-34 going into the final stanza. Then Knight and Robertson scored three points apiece on a goal and foul, Jim Sigworth found the ring twice and Frisinali once to take a 15-point advantage before the Business College team could even score. From there the losers chipped off seven points of the lead, but time was too far gone to make up the rest.

KEEP RIVALS HONEST BY USING DECEPTION

West opened the jack of spades, and dummy won with the king. Declarer naturally led a low trump from dummy and finessed the queen from his hand. West made his simple but devastating play at this trick. He played a low trump instead of the king.

FUNNY BUSINESS

By Hershberger

"I told you the program was too long—he stopped playing to eat a snack!"

Mind you, this kind of play must be made with complete naturalness. You can't appear to be thinking, because then it will be clear that you have the king. Also, you must find some way to cope with your partner if he cheats for the trick.

There are some players who take great pride in the fact that they are alive. If a finesse is taken through them, and if they know that the finesse will lose, they will reach for the trick to show that they are perfectly awake and ready to be of assistance.

Of course, any such move betrays the location of the king. There are two ways of dealing with such a partner. One is to have a pack of cigarettes handy. As declarer takes his finesse, you push the pack of cigarettes to your partner to keep him busy; and you can then play a low trump without worrying about partner's reach.

A more effective way is to have a short but heavy stick on the table. One decisive rap over the knuckles is enough to cure most partners.

When today's hand was played, East was not a reacher. He looked perfectly natural when declarer's queen of trump won the second trick, and so did West. South had no way of knowing that he was being led up the garden path.

Naturally enough, South led another spade to dummy's ace and repeated the trump finesse. This time West took the king of hearts. West could also cash a spade trick, and East eventually got the ace of clubs and a diamond trick.

Note the difference if West wins the first round of trumps. South now has no need to repeat the trump finesse. When he gets to dummy with the ace of spades, he will use that entry to take the diamond finesse. Since that succeeds he makes his game contract.
